

THE AGENDA

The International Traffic in Arms Regulations ("ITAR") provides certain exemptions that allow exporters and brokers to conduct ITAR regulated exports and brokering without the need of an ITAR license. The new AUKUS exemption offers opportunities for companies doing business in Australia or the United Kingdom

Topics will include:

- What is an Exemption
- AUKUS Exemption Conditions
- A detailed review of the AUKUS Exemption Conditions
- How to validate Authorized Users
- The Hardware, Technical Data and Service exclusions
- Exporting Obligations
- Where to identify the AUKUS Exemption rules on the DOS website
- Important Things to know
- What your Export Documents Should look like
- AUKUS FAQs

ITAR 126.7 AUKUS EXEMPTION

This webinar takes a deep look at the AUKUS Exemption established in the ITAR in 2024.

We will walk participants thru the different elements of the AUKUS exemption, how to use it and best practices for compliance and review the Department of State FAQs on the AUKUS exemption.

If your company is actively involved in exporting or brokering activities with Australia or the United Kingdom, this course will provide insight into whether you can avail the use of the AUKUS exemption to undertake activities or if you can replace existing ITAR authorizations and use the AUKUS exemption.
